Current Residents

Chad Davis
PGY1/2 HSPAL
Chadwick.Davis@UCHealth.org

Chad Davis grew up in Olathe, KS, just 30min from Kansas City. He obtained his B.A. in Spanish at the University of Kansas and started his professional career working for Cerner Corporation. A passion to further pursue clinical excellence saw him and his wife moving to Denver to obtain his PharmD from the Rueckert-Hartman College of Health Professions at Regis University. Excited to hit the ground running as UCHealth's first HSPAL resident, Chad has a passion for leadership, pediatrics, medical affairs, and solid organ transplant. Outside of pharmacy, Chad's hobbies include swimming, cycling, triathlon, BBQ, golf, and the occasional weekend getaway to Carbondale, CO. Chad and his wife, Britt, just welcomed their first baby-boy, James, into the world this spring. ROCK CHALK

Kaitlin Blotske
PGY1 Acute Care
Kaitlin.Blotske@UCHealth.org

Kaitlin Blotske grew up as a Georgia Peach in her hometown of Stockbridge, Georgia. She completed her undergraduate studies and Doctor of Pharmacy education at the University of Georgia (Go Dawgs!). Her clinical interests include critical care, cardiology, and infectious disease medicine, with aspirations to become a PGY2-trained critical care pharmacist. Outside the hospital, Kaitlin can be found at a local coffee shop fueling her coffee addiction, hiking, playing ultimate frisbee, traveling, or exploring new restaurants/activities. Kaitlin is looking forward to experiencing the great outdoors of Colorado and joining the UCHealth University of Colorado team!

Amanda Dobson
PGY1 Acute Care
Amanda.Dobson@UCHealth.org

Amanda Dobson grew up in a suburb outside of St. Louis, MO. She earned her B.S. in Chemistry at Missouri State University and moved to Colorado in 2019 to pursue her Pharm.D. at the University of Colorado Skaggs School of Pharmacy. Her current clinical interests include emergency medicine, critical care, and toxicology. In her free time, Amanda likes to travel, enjoy the outdoors (i.e., skiing, hiking, kayaking) and watch her favorite sports team, the St. Louis Blues.

Kaitlyn Haas
PGY1 Acute Care
Kaitlyn.Haas@UCHealth.org

Kaitlyn Haas grew up in Southwest Georgia and completed both her undergraduate studies and pharmacy school at the University of Georgia. Her professional interest areas include ambulatory care and solid organ transplant. She hopes to complete PGY-2 residency training in one of these areas and play a heavy role in mentoring and precepting students. In her free time, she loves to play tennis, pickleball, hit a spin class and hang out with her friends! Having spent most of her life in Georgia, she is thrilled to try new things and explore all that Colorado has to offer including the many outdoor activities such as skiing and hiking. Although she is a diehard Georgia Bulldogs fan, she looks forward to attending and cheering on the sports teams in her new home state!

Shania Lee
PGY1 Acute Care
Shania.Lee@UCHealth.org

Shania Lee was born and raised in San Francisco, California and completed her undergraduate studies and pharmacy school in a six-year program on the opposite coast at Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts. She is excited to trade the oceanside for the mountains for PGY1 training in the beautiful state of Colorado. Her professional interests include solid organ transplant, emergency medicine, and public and global health. Outside of residency, Shania hopes to get acclimated to running and baking in the higher altitudes, hike, or ski accordingly with the seasons, and, as a foodie, indulge at the delicious restaurants of Denver.

Kristina Ortiz
PGY1 Acute Care
Kristina.Ortiz@UCHealth.org

Kristina Ortiz grew up in Suwanee, Georgia and completed her undergraduate studies and pharmacy school at the University of Georgia (Go Dawgs!). Her professional interests include oncology, and a passion for academia and precepting in the future. She hopes to complete PGY-2 training in oncology and eventually teach at a college of pharmacy to help train the next generation of pharmacists. In her free time, Kristina enjoys reading, spoiling her dog Bear, and going to local sporting events. Kristina is excited for the new adventures that await in Colorado and looks forward to finally learning how to ski and showing Bear her first snow!
