

News

Clinical Laboratory Test Update

Glucometers

A new glucometer model will be rolled out in phases across UCHealth's Point of Care Testing departments starting this spring. The only changes are external; the whole blood glucose testing process remains unchanged.

Key differences:

- More durable casing with rubber coating
- Pinless dock; uses a cradle for charging and data transfer
- Integrated battery (not separate)
- New and old docking stations are incompatible

Please contact your local Point of Care Testing Department if you have any questions.